

A black treble clef is positioned on a five-line musical staff. The staff lines are horizontal and parallel. The clef's hook is on the first line, and its main curve starts on the second line, loops around the middle of the staff, and ends on the fourth line. A solid black dot is located at the bottom of the staff, below the first line.

Vln.

Vln.

